

GARDENERS' HEAVEN

This unique four-bedroom period house offers a vast garden as well as superb living areas thanks to an architectural redesign. And it is situated on one of the most highly regarded streets in Stockwell – a striking period crescent.

There is an exceptional ground floor reception room, overlooking a sizeable dining room with double-height ceilings, leading into a modern kitchen benefiting from exceptional natural light thanks to the glass roof construction.

The dining room and kitchen both lead out into the large landscaped garden via bi-folding doors as well as an architecturally designed sliding double height window. There is also a guest WC on the ground floor.

The master bedroom suite is on the first floor along with a large double bedroom. The substantial bedroom on the top floor offers the potential to be separated into two bedrooms and two bathrooms.

On the lower ground floor there is one more generous bedroom, with en suite bathroom, which would easily function as a separate self-contained flat.

The property is on a striking period crescent within easy reach of Central London via the Victoria Line and the City via the Northern Line, which is a short walk away. Stockwell itself has a vibrant neighbourhood social scene with an annual dinner in the spring and a summer weekend festival.
